Practical information

Ischia is an island situated at the entrance of the gulf of Naples. It may only be reached by sea from the harbours of Napoli (main harbour> Beverello and Porta di Massa piers; Mergellina) and Pozzuoli.

There are ferry (traghetto) and fast boats (aliscafo/catamarano) services to Ischia Porto (and to other harbours, which are less convenient to reach the conference venue) from the early morning to the evening (late evening ferry services are only available from Pozzuoli harbour), operated by Caremar, Alilauro and NLG.

Journeys to Ischia last from 35 minutes (minimum duration for fast boat service from Mergellina) to 90 minutes (maximum duration for ferry service from main harbour Naples). Although Pozzuoli is closer to Ischia, it is far from Naples airport. Therefore, we suggest that you reach the island from any of Naples harbours. Ferry services from Naples operate from main harbour Porta di Massa pier only. Fast boats operate from Beverello and Mergellina.

Naples harbours may be reached by taxi with flat-rate/tariffa predeterminata fares available for Eur 20 to main harbour Naples (20 minutes) and Eur 23 to Mergellina harbour (30 minutes), or public transport. If you opt for public transport, the direct Alibus service reaches main harbour (in just over 30 minutes, depending on traffic conditions) with stop at Naples Central train station. From Naples Central train station you can also take metro line 2 to Mergellina harbour, (4 stops and then approx. 750 m. walk) and Pozzuoli harbour (some further stops away and approx. 2 kms).

Hotel Continental Terme is situated at approx. 2 kms from Ischia Porto. The most convenient option to reach it is by taxi (fares available upon meter), but also public transport options are available.

Closest airport: Naples Capodichino (NAP).

Regular direct flights are operated from all major Italian airports, as well as from others, including Amsterdam (Easyjet and Transavia> at least 1 flight per day), Barcelona (Vueling > 1 flight per day), Brussels (Brussels and Easyjet > at least 1 flight per day), Frankfurt (Lufthansa> 2 flights per day), Madrid (Iberia Express, Meridiana >

2 flights per day) Munich (Lufthansa and Transavia >at least 3 flights per day), PAR airports (Air France, Easyjet, Transavia > 4 flights per day), LON airports (British Airways, Easyjet, Meridiana > 5 flights per day).

Alternative airports: Rome Fiumicino (FCO) and Ciampino (CIA), approx. 200 km from Naples.

Rome airports are connected to Rome Termini by train (Fiumicino > 30 minutes) and bus (Ciampino > 40 minutes). From Rome Termini station you can reach Naples Central with several high-speed trains (average duration of journey: 70 mins) operated by Trenitalia and Italo.

Registration

The registration fee is Eur 500 (including lunch). Conference speakers are waived from the fee. (Full/partial) Waiver is also available for full-time academics and doctoral students upon request.

Limited seats available. Registration on the spot not available. Early registration recommended.
